“The achievements of Students for a Free Tibet show that nonviolent action does work.”

- His Holiness the Dalai Lama

China invaded Tibet in 1949. Since then, over one million Tibetans have died as a direct result of China's occupation. Today, the Chinese government continues to exploit Tibet's resource-rich land, while violently suppressing the Tibetan people's basic human rights and political freedom.

Tibetans have never given up, and with the support of allies, the movement for freedom grows stronger. A new generation is embracing the power of non-violent resistance and challenging China's occupation in bold and innovative ways. As the largest international grassroots organization in the Tibetan Freedom Movement, Students for a Free Tibet uses education, grassroots organizing, and non-violent direct action to mobilize supporters around the world for Tibet.

We know Tibet will be free and, together, we can work to turn this vision into reality.
